American E-commerce players

Amazon

1994

amazon.com is one of the most famous eCommerce organizations and currently leading online platform, with headquarters located in Seattle, Washington. It was founded in 1994 by Jeff Bezos and was one of the first American eCommerce players.

eBay

1994

Founded as "AuctionWeb" Pierre Omidyar started a service that allowed users to bid on each other's used items. Focus on the "average guy" instead of tech-companies.

Dell

1994

dell.com was the first company to record 1M USD sales online in 1997. High level of customization via internet became a huge success and got imitated by the entire market.
